

Tenth Sunday in Ordinary Time, June 5, 2016

The grief of a mother losing her child can rarely be overcome. In the time of Elijah the Prophet he witnessed the death of the young son of a widow. Elijah exhibited his faith in God by asking that the life breath return to the child. When the living boy was returned to his mother, she recognized that Elijah was a man of God. In the gospel Jesus comes to Nain and encounters a funeral procession for the son of a widow. He has pity on the widow and brought the man back to life. These signs display the power of God and his abundant mercy. For our part, we recognize the works of God that beckon us forward on our life's journey to the kingdom of heaven. May we keep in mind God's power and his loving mercy.
