

CCD NEWS 10/2/18

This coming Sunday, we celebrate the 27th Sunday in Ordinary Time, Year B. We read from the Gospel of Mark 10:13-16 If the Psalms and the Gospels have anything to say about it, loneliness is part of the human condition. Jesus prayed words from the loneliest sounding psalm of them all while nailed to the cross: “ My God, my God, why have you abandoned me?” In this coming weeks Gospel, Jesus takes a clear stand against marginalizing the children who come to him for attention, even if they are “only” children. In this he sets a new counter cultural example for his contemporaries. Among first century Jews, few distinctions existed among women, children, and slaves, for together they occupied the bottom rung of the social ladder. Those ranking above them were privileged in ways that today would be considered elitist and discriminatory. Yet time and again throughout the Gospels, Jesus demonstrates in word and deed that women, children and slaves are to be given the same respect ordinarily accorded only to free Jewish male adults. Prayer: As I wait, for the Lord, my soul waits and I hope for his word. My soul looks for the Lord more than sentinels for daybreak, let Israel hope in the Lord, For with the Lord is mercy, with him is plenteous redemption. (Psalm 130:5-7) In your name we pray..... Amen
