

This coming Sunday, we celebrate the 1st Sunday in Advent, Year C. We read from the Gospel of Luke 21:25-28,34-36 With this coming Sunday's liturgy we begin another season of Advent. To challenge us to greater faithfulness to God, the readings reveal God's unfailing fidelity to us. Yet ironically, today's Gospel puts frightening words into the mouth of Jesus. He warns of a dangerous future when the forces of nature will be unleashed on all the nations of the earth. It will be a time of panic and fear. Yet Jesus assures his listeners, no one who remains focused on God will come to any lasting harm. Natural disasters will merely be the prelude to his final coming in glory. Rather than cowering in fear, his followers should keep living lives of faith, hope and charity. Then they will be ready to "stand up straight, and be brave" when the tumult ends and he appears in glory. Prayer: Lord Jesus Christ, we ask you in trust and love to hear our prayers for the church, the world, and ourselves. May the will of your Father be done on Earth as it is in Heaven, and may your kingdom come, that we might honor you as our Lord and King forever and ever. In your name we pray.. Amen
