Reflect, today, upon the spiritual truth that God wants you to be a saint. If you are among those few who die in a state in which you are purified from every sin, then be assured that you have already completed your purgatory on earth. But if you or your loved ones are among the many who still hold some minor attachment to sin at the time of death, then rejoice that God is not done with you yet. Anticipate with much gratitude the final purification that awaits and look forward to the freedom that ultimately comes from that purification.

Act of Contrition Before the Blessed Sacrament

Forgive me my sins, O Lord, forgive me my sins; the sins of my youth, the sins of my age, the sins of my soul, the sins of my body, my idle sins, my seriously voluntary sins, the sins I know, the sins I do not know, the sins I have concealed so long, and which are now hidden from my memory. I am truly sorry for every sin, mortal and venial, for all the sins of my childhood up to the present hour. I know my sins have wounded Thy Tender Heart, O my Savior, let me be freed from the bonds of evil through the most bitter passion of my Redeemer.

O my Jesus, forget and forgive what I have been. AMEN

This Week's Featured Feast Days

Saint Charles Borromeo

Feast Day: November 4th

Saint Charles Borromeo, whose feast day is celebrated on November 4th, was a 16th-century Italian cardinal and archbishop of Milan known for his tireless work in reforming the Church during the Counter-Reformation. Born into a noble family in 1538, he was appointed a cardinal by his uncle, Pope Pius IV, at a young age. Despite his wealth and position, Charles lived a life of humility and dedication to God. He played a major role in implementing the decrees of the Council of Trent, which sought to renew and strengthen the Catholic Church in response to the Protestant Reformation.

As Archbishop of Milan, St. Charles worked to reform the clergy and improve the moral and spiritual lives of his people. He established seminaries to properly train priests, visited parishes regularly, and cared deeply for the poor and the sick. During a terrible plague in Milan, rather than flee the city, he stayed to care for the sick and dying, personally organizing relief efforts and ministering to the afflicted. His deep compassion and self-sacrifice made him a model shepherd who embodied Christ's love for His flock.

St. Charles Borromeo's legacy continues today as a reminder of the importance of holiness, integrity, and pastoral care in Church leadership. His life teaches Catholics the value of reform and renewal within one's own heart and community. He is a patron saint of bishops, seminarians, and spiritual leaders, encouraging all who serve the Church to do so with humility, discipline, and love. His reforms helped shape the modern structure of the Catholic Church, particularly in priestly education and pastoral care.

Catholics can celebrate the feast of St. Charles Borromeo by attending Mass and praying for bishops, priests, and seminarians who continue his mission of guiding and nurturing the faithful. It is also a meaningful day to offer acts of service to the poor or the sick, following his example of compassion. Families might read about his life together, pray the Litany of the Saints, or reflect on how they can bring reform and renewal into their own lives. By imitating his zeal and faith, Catholics honor his memory and carry forward his spirit of true Christian service.

"If we wish to make any progress in the service of God we must begin each day of our life with new eagerness. We must keep ourselves in the presence of God as much as possible and have no other view or end in all our actions but the divine honor."

- Saint Charles Borromeo
